MICHAEL NOLAN

Hospice of the South Shore

Known Now as Hospice Care Network

Founded in 1988

Michael Nolan was a founding board member in 1988 of Hospice of the South Shore which merged in 1996 with Hospice Care of Long Island and Hospice Care of Queens. He became the Trustee of the newly formed organization, Hospice Care Network.

Mr. Nolan brought his years of experience as Chief Operating Officer of Southside Hospital to the agency and board members say his wisdom, kindness, compassion, healthcare expertise and administrative acumen have been valuable qualities that define his leadership.

The mission of Hospice Care Network is to help terminally ill patients and their families through death, dying and bereavement. They provide care through interdisciplinary teams of staff and volunteers available twenty-four hours a day, and also may supply durable medical equipment, supplies and pharmaceuticals.

Pastoral Care Education Programs, Bereavement Volunteer Training and Bereavement Support Groups for adults and children are just some of the additional services available.
